

"Teahouse" to Play At ATH This Weekend

By Jean Homan

Final preparations and rehearsals were made this week for the presentation of "Teahouse of the August Moon," being produced by the Palette, Masque and Lyre at the Antioch High School auditorium Friday and Saturday. The production, sponsored by the Antioch High School PTA, will start at 8 p.m. with a cast of local residents and high school students.

Jim Cain portrays the wily interpreter, Sakini, who is assigned to Capt. Flisby, played by Larry Welch. Flisby is assigned by the Army of Occupation to the island of Okinawa to set up a democracy in the little village of Tobiki and build them a schoolhouse, but the natives have other ideas.

Homer LaPlant, as Col. Purdy, and Joe Hunley, as the Army psychiatrist, are baffled by Flisby's gift, which is Lotus Blossom (Pat Mitchell) a geisha girl, presented to him by Mr. Sumata, played by Mike Brooks.

Others in the cast include Dan Seyfarth as Gregovich; Alan Moorman as Mr. Oshira; Bonnie Schneider as Miss Ilga Jiga; Jean Homan, Old Woman; Terry Manzardo, Old Woman's Daughter; Pamela Hunley, Sally Lyons and Steve Smouse as the Daughter's Children.

An ancient man will be played by Jeff Ryan; Hokaide by Dave Cardiff; Mr. Selko, Bob Carlquist; Mr. Omura, John Horton; Mr. Keora, Ted Radakovic; and other girls of the village include Judy Turner, Randi Jacobsen and Verna Turvoara.

As the play progresses, it will be seen that a plan set up in Washington for orienting natives does not take into consideration the difference in their ways of life, their likes and dislikes. The comic situations presented are matched by the beautiful scenery and should prove a fine evening's entertainment.

Tickets for the show are available in Antioch at Gibbs

& Jensen, The Nook, Candy Lane, Tourist Information Center and The Antioch News office.

In Lake Villa, they are on sale at Lake Villa Drug Store, Meyer's Gas Station, and the Texaco Station in Linden Plaza.

Auto Rolls, Man Hurt

Harold J. McGuire, 45, of Chicago, was involved in a spectacular accident last Tuesday afternoon at 4:05 p.m.

McGuire, who was proceeding west on Rte. 173 about three miles west of Antioch went over the high curving hill near Adolph's Channel Inn and at great speeds, drove down the steep hill which runs directly to Chase's Phillips 66 Station, when his car went out of control.

Going off the edge of the roadway near the base of the hill, McGuire's car rolled over several times before coming to a full stop.

The State Police department, whose squad attended the accident, estimated that over $1000 damage was done to McGuire's car, a Volkswagen.

Listed with a possible broken arm, chest injuries and serious lacerations about the face, McGuire was rushed to Victory Memorial Hospital by the Antioch Rescue Squad.

The car was towed into Chase's Garage.

No citation was issued by the State Police.

Navy to March In Big Parade

A drill team from the U.S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, will perform intricate rifle handling and marching maneuvers at Antioch during the Summer Festival to be held in Antioch at 1:00 p.m. on Sunday, July 8.

The Electronics Technician Drill Team is composed of more than 30 volunteer Navy men from the world's largest naval training center. They are all students in the Electronics Technician and Fire Control Technician schools at Great Lakes.

Team members are among about 7,000 Navy men studying in Great Lakes technical schools. The Bluejackets are studying electronics, gunnery, radar and other technical specialties needed to operate today's atomic, electronic, supersonic U. S. Navy.

Only students maintaining a scholastic average of 85 or above are selected for the team, which was formed in 1951. The unit drills about eight hours each week, all during off-duty time.

Drill team equipment is the "real McCoy." Members drill with nine-pound rifles and fixed bayonets (total weight—over 11 pounds).

The unit makes many appearances each year in parades, football games, and civic celebrations. Most shows are within driving distance of Great Lakes, but the unit travels about 5,000 miles by Navy plane each summer. Their flights have taken them to Nebraska, Missouri, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana.

Senior enlisted men select team members and supervise drill sessions. J. P. Simonovich is Chief Electronics Technician in charge and is drill master.

Bristol Band Will Play on Festival Nite

Performing in the evening concert program of the Antioch Summer Festival will be the Bristol Band.

The outgoing president was Dr. Peter Furno, M. D., of Chicago.

Marian Harden Retires From Public Library

Marian Harden recently retired from her position of Head Librarian at the Antioch Township Library, which she has held since 1945.

In charge of the Public Library for 17 years, Mrs. Harden has seen the library grow in stature and in readers. During her years as Head Librarian the village library was moved from where Ken's Outlet is now situated to its present site on North Main Street.

When Mrs. Harden took over duties with the library in 1945, the library had about 6000 books on hand. Now the library has more than doubled that number with about 15,500.

Circulation of the books, according to Mrs. Harden, has also doubled with about 2,700 readers now registered at the library.

A visiting bookmobile serving rural communities with over 4,000 books, story hours for children and cultural projects such as Mrs. Horton's annual art fair have all come into being at the library during Mrs. Harden's time.

Particularly stressing an unknown point, Mrs. Harden stated that any book not stocked in the library, but sought after by readers, could be obtained by ordering from the great reserves of the state library.

On her departure from her long-held position, forced by home commitments, Mrs. Harden reviewed her experience in three words, "I loved it."

Miss Betty Lu Williams, who was first employed at the library 17 years ago, will succeed Mrs. Harden as head librarian.

Miss Williams has been assistant librarian for the past 14 years.

Georgia Fox, a student at the U. of Illinois, is now assisting Miss Williams for the summer.

Another pretty young girl is Betty Amendola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Amendola of Antioch. Active in dramatics, dancing, and other school activities, Miss Amendola will be a senior at ATHS this coming fall.

(Candidates by Leo)

She is a 1960 graduate from Salem Central High School. While at Salem, Miss Gooch participated in GAA, FHA, cheerleading, (3 years) and was vice-president of the GAA and Pop Club. She enjoys dancing and horses as hobbies. Her father is Joseph Gooch of Salem.

Another pretty young girl is Betty Amendola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Amendola of Antioch. Active in dramatics, dancing, and other school activities, Miss Amendola will be a senior at ATHS this coming fall.

The entire program is sponsored through the financial support of the U. S. Office of Education for language development.

Faculty Represents School

Warren Polley, Assistant Supt. of ATHS is one of the speakers at the Annual Illinois Association of Secondary School Principals Workshop at Illinois State Normal University on June 25, 26 and 27.

The discussion group Mr. Polley is slated to participate in is related to the academic and eligibility of athletes.

Albert A. Dittman, school superintendent, was recently selected by the Illinois Education Association to serve as a delegate to the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards Conference to be held at Fort Collins, Colo., June 26 through 30.

The Illinois Education Association has assumed Supt. Dittman's expenses at the conference.

44 ATHS Students Pick Universities

Ten students out of the 1962 ATHS graduating class have received scholarships to various universities and colleges.

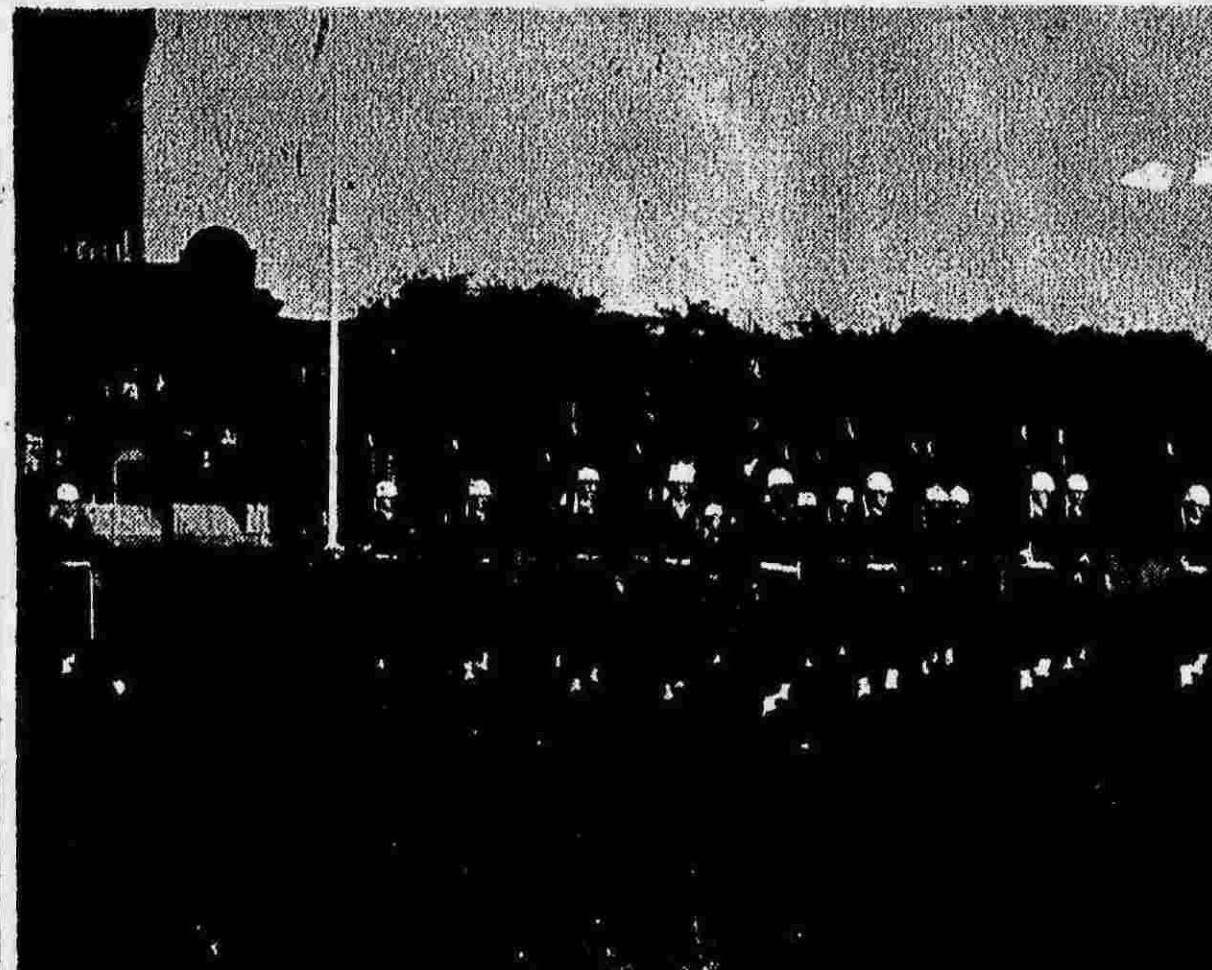

Student Council president Steve Chandler won a $1435 scholarship to Grinnell College in Iowa. Joseph Enis, also a top student, received a scholarship amounting to $1200 for Cornell College in Iowa.

dents into business schools, two into special program of the state highway department and three into military colleges.

A Road to Nowhere?

The new road now under construction from Park Avenue behind the businesses and shops located on the east side of Main Street is definitely a credit to the village of Antioch.

Dispute has been taken, however, as to the feasibility in planning such a road. The right of easement on these private properties—a forked maze of land enmeshed in legal rights and claims—has not been secured to the point where the road can be put through to Depot Street.

The Depot Street opening is the logical and only exit available to make the road completely serviceable for its intended use.

Perhaps the village board and others working on the project should contact all the parties having property rights in that particular area of land before proceeding to build a road that may turn out to be a dead end, by obtaining permission of easement. The situation of insufficient parking facilities and needed patronage for all the stores in Antioch would then be more easily remedied.

All Citizens Urged

The impending problems of the proposed zoning ordinance will be viewed with ever-increasing interest in Antioch over the next few months.

This proposed law, which lays out the business, residential and industrial areas for the community's future growth, has already been hotly debated by several property owners and residents at the last meeting of the Planning and Zoning Board in the Fire Station.

Plans are being made, according to Board Chairman Dave Nissen, to obtain the grade school auditorium for public use next month when the issue will again be discussed.

This meeting, with its import on the future welfare of you, the residents of our village, and your children, should be attended by the entire community.

We urge you to take advantage of your constitutional rights and inspect the board's planning. What this board does will affect the future of your children and their children. Protect their interests and attend the next meeting.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

The mind of the layman ran headlong against the slide rules and surveys of the engineer last week when State Representative W. J. Murphy, of Antioch, called a group together to discuss a solution to the flooding problem on the Chain O' Lakes.

Rep. Murphy had representatives of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, fellow-legislators, local government officials, and local businessmen at the luncheon at Roman's in Ingleside and there was an interesting exchange of ideas.

The Corps of Engineer representative told the group that a study is being made and in fact has been under way with a minimum appropriation since 1960 with completion due in about three years.

That is the date for completion of the studies and surveys, of course, which means that a solution will have to be decided upon after that date and construction, if any, will follow that.

The engineer gave little hope for an immediate, short-term, low cost solution to the flooding, an oversight that seemed to upset some of his fellow guests.

Rep. Murphy, who fought with the State Division of Waterways most of last winter to get the gates in the McHenry dam opened to relieve the situation, had an ally in Dr. Stanley Anderson of Channahon Lake.

Dr. Anderson, armed with charts and diagrams, tried to show that the opening of the dam at Wilmet and closing of the dam at McHenry could conceivably have an adverse effect on the level of the water in between, but the Corps of Engineer spokesman wasn't buying it without a thorough study.

It would probably be safe to predict, however, that come high water in the Chain O' Lakes again and there will be considerable pressure to have the McHenry dam opened, even if it means some slight flooding below the dam.

Ed Krupo, president of the Chain O' Lakes Resort Owners Assn., plugged for extensive dredging in the Chain O' Lakes to provide more recreational area for the thousands flocking into the area during the summer months.

Krupo also suggested that the state refrain from boosting the area as a resort center and recreation paradise until the waterways are improved to handle the crowds. Somehow this seems like a defeatist attitude and instead we would assure the state that the Chain O' Lakes region would welcome any promotion by the state while at the same time insisting on some real consideration when it comes time to spend money on improving waterways and recreation areas.

This might be a good time to suggest to our state legislators that they push legislation which would turn motor fuel tax money collected from boat operators over to the Division of Waterways for development of water recreation facilities.

A bill on this order was introduced by State Senator Robert McClory, but was killed because it listed only Lake Michigan as the beneficiary of the marine fuel tax appropriations.

County Board Chairman Robert Dickson, who attended the meeting, tried hard to get the Corps of Engineers to state it would be nice if there was a county public works department through which the engineers could work, but the representative said they could work just as well with a full board of supervisors.

The Public Works Department is one of Dickson's prime objectives during his term of office and he is looking for support wherever he can find it.

Probably one of the most talked about and written about (mainly by himself) reporter of the last fifty years is Ron Hecht.

Colorful, always imaginative, Hecht brought a brand of journalism to Chicago in 1911 that Joseph Medill (Founder of the Medill School of Journalism) and Horace Greeley never dreamed of.

After running away from his home in Racine, Wisconsin, Hecht, a young lad then, wandered the streets of Chicago seeking employment.

As luck would have it, he was stopped on Wabash Avenue by his uncle and was questioned. After explaining that he needed a job, his uncle secured a position on the Chicago Examiner for him.

His "position" on the Examiner (while being watched and guided by his newspaper mentor, J. Ryan Duffy) was "picture chaser," which meant that he ran to whatever section of town a story broke, picked up the photographer's negative and scurried back to the newspaper.

On one occasion, while out delivering negatives, he was passed by a fast-running Negro with a fist full of bills who was being chased by a German butcher, swearing and wildly swinging a butcher's axe. With a mighty cleave, the butcher felled the thief and thereby decapitated him. Hecht was so excited that he dropped everything and ran three miles back to the Examiner.

Puffing and steaming with exhaustion, Hecht was informed upon his arrival that a reporter phoned in the story a half hour ago. Ever hear of the telephone?

Chagrined, Hecht decided to become a reporter.

While working for the Examiner, Hecht's antics were both numerous and notorious. His editor came to him one day and benched the fact that there was no lead story for the front page (this was in days before AP and UPI services were available to all newspapers) and wouldn't he possibly try to do something about it.

Hecht was on the job immediately. Wandering about the south side of Chicago with a photographer, Hecht noticed a large crevice in the earth running for some distance down a main thoroughfare. Men were inside the jagged trench laying pipe. Vacating the trench, Hecht had his photographer take an unusual shot of it and went back to write the lead story—"Earthquake in Chicago." His rambling prose etched out a terrifying story of mayhem and destruction about the faked disaster. Several of his relatives supported the story in print by stating that dishes in their homes had fallen from shelves, windows shattered, etc. Hecht's editor beamed. A scoop—even if it wasn't true.

Hecht's offered justification for this madman journalism was that "it may not be true, but it sure makes people feel that there's a lot happening in Chicago." Migrating to the Chicago Journal (now defunct along with the Examiner), Hecht wrote his crazy-quilt stories until the Chicago Daily News picked him up.

Here, Hecht convinced his editor, Henry Justin Smith, that he needed more literary types writing for the News. His first selection for the paper was a crony poet who wrote for a Milwaukee labor sheet until its demise—Carl Sandburg. Sandburg was, to Jacoby, famed trumpet player and music clinician, will be the subject of a testimonial at the Polynesian Room of Chicago's Edgewater Beach Hotel Tuesday, June 26.

Friends and fans of Jacoby have planned the tribute in recognition of the work he has done with youth music groups in Lake County.

Jacoby, who has played with many of the nation's top bands, is fronting his own jazz combo for the first time on supper club dates at the famous Polynesian Room, which explains the selection of that site for the tribute.

Ring around the Rosie, Little Sally Salter, London Bridge, and a few other well remembered children's games have taken on a new twist at the Aqua Center this past week. Charlotte Queen and her well trained Red Cross instructors put those song games to use (believe it or not) in teaching the very small fry (4, 5, and 6 year olds) to swim. If you haven't had an opportunity to watch the marvels of this training program it would be well worth your while to do so. (The next time you hear Mom or Pop singing in the bathtub, kids, check to see if they're blowing bubbles, too.)

The red faces on Larry Ryan, Sr., and Ray Lorenz, Sr., don't mean they're blushing. It's from too much sunning at the ball game in Milwaukee last week.

Doc Al Bucar must have taken those signs ("I want to be a lawn," etc.) posted in his front yard (by a couple of friends) as a gentle hint. He had wall-to-wall lawn installed this past week!

Annie Mae sends her best wishes along with the Wm. Mongan family as they travel to their new home in Texas. One of the latest "transformations" is on Pat Herbert, and if you don't know what I mean, check with Grandma!

Wonder if Bill Seemann took Larry Lichtenstein's job directing traffic because of the viewing potential, or to get his name in this column? Either way, Bill, you win!

A wife who really means it when she says "Happy Father's Day," is pretty Mrs. Larry Eggleston. She presented Dad with a fine new son on Saturday.

John Blackman may be new at golf, but the fellows say it didn't take him long to figure out how to use a "Foot Mashie."

That reminds me of something Freddy Flintstone said. "The quickest way to meet new people is to pick up the wrong ball on a golf course!" Have fun on your Fairway, Annie Mae!

say the least of him, not a regular type reporter. He wrote poetry all day and walked about with yellowed newspaper clippings in his pocket for months without ever writing a story. When his editor asked him to dream up a good story, Sandburg proffered a raggedy clipping saying "here's a good story—just read this one."

Exasperated, his editor, with Hecht's urging, sent Sandburg to Detroit to cover a political labor meeting. For two days no word came from Detroit. Finally a dispatch for a news service came through to the News stating that an important figure had been shot on the speaker's floor.

Giving up after no word from Sandburg, his editor wired him to come home. A few hours later Sandburg's reply came in: "Dear Boss, Can't come back now. Things getting too exciting."

Hecht's other cronies, mostly reporters, were just as zany and unpredictable as himself and Sandburg. Charlie MacArthur of the Tribune was accustomed to hanging out with hoodlums and shooting out the arc lamps on Michigan Boulevard with gangster Dion O'Bannion.

Lloyd Lewis, Harry Hanson, Keith Preston and Henry Blackman Sell also helped to make the newspaper scene of that day seem provocative, adventurous and daring.

These figures, along with the myriad editors, publishers and politicians Hecht knew and worked for, all appeared in his never-to-be-forgotten Front Page—the humorous and crude newspaper play of the twenties written with MacArthur.

Today, Hecht no longer lives in Chicago but resides in New York from whence he makes infrequent sojourns in Hollywood to help out in writing scripts such as his salvage job of the mismanaged Brando-bedevilled Muntiny on the Bounty remake.

In looking back on Hecht's career one might wonder how the world could be so fuzzy with hoopla at that time. With reporters like Hecht it probably wasn't impossible at all.

PENNING THE NEWS

Now that you have successfully completed the course, you are ready for your diploma. It won't come in the form of a sheepskin or any fancy lettered parchment.

You will find, however, by following the simple hints given out in the past few weeks, more of your articles will be used and a better relation between you and your editor will develop.

Professor Joe Sutton, editor of the Illinois University Alumni News, summed it up much better than I ever could, when asked to write instructions on how to write a news story on one page. The following is what he wrote.

"How to Write a News Story" Remember the last fiction story you read? Turned upside down, it would be a news story. That is, if it were true.

The novelist gets his villain into devilment for page after page, and brings him to a bad end in the last paragraph. The reporter polishes him off in the opening sentence, and then relates his misdeeds in detail as space permits.

A club speaker may talk 20 minutes before making his main point. The reporter begins his story with that main point. He wants to start with the biggest thing said.

The newspaper editor has strong dislikes, such as adjectives, inactives, "weak" verbs, long words, and unnecessary words of any kind. He wants as few as possible used to get the idea across because his newspaper is crowded. Give him the essential facts, then stop.

He borrows some dislikes from his readers, such as wrong names, which make him madder than almost anything else. Furthermore, if Bertha Jones has a good husband, the editor wants her to use his name. He wants it.

He doesn't like guessing. If you don't know something is true, he'd rather you didn't write it.

And one more thing. The editor is running a newspaper, not a history book. He doesn't want Monday's club report for next Sunday's paper. He wants it Tuesday. Follow these rules and the editor will appreciate you. Type your copy, and he'll fall madly in love.

Our thanks to Professor Sutton for this short but informative summation. In concluding this little corner, we wish you success in your term as publicity chairman and invite you to call or stop at the office if you encounter any problems in your writing.

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

In the last several months I have given serious study to the calling of a special session of the Illinois General Assembly for the purpose of finding solutions to Illinois' fiscal problems. Circumstances which have developed in recent weeks have prompted my decision not to call the session this year.

A Supreme Court decision, favorable to the best interest of the state, will do much in increasing the monthly revenue receipts. My economy order (which was made last December) has been effective. All departments under my jurisdiction were ordered to keep their expenses at a minimum. We have kept the hiring of personnel to a minimum. We have used and will continue to use public aid recipients in many areas in order to maintain this program of economy and still keep the services the state provides at as near normal level as possible.

In the first nine months of the biennium this curtailment of spending has resulted in a rate of savings which would realize more than $32 million over the biennium.

But if the state General Revenue Fund is to remain solvent, further drastic action must be taken, because increased demands on public assistance continue. I have therefore ordered:

1. The Illinois Public Aid Commission to review its estimates of needed revenue during the next 12 months

Letters to the Editor

June 16, 1962
TO THE EDITOR and THE PLANNING COMMISSION

Dear Sirs:

After diligently studying the proposed plan for Antioch, and the map, I have been unable to find any provision made for the two kinds of people that cannot protect themselves, namely, the poor and the dead.

I have known most of you gentlemen all of my life and know you are the first and most generous in aiding anyone in need and have respect and reverence for the dead.

Respectfully,

Mrs. J. W. McMillen

Agriculture Premium Fund. While this action may be considered drastic and no doubt to some unpopular, curtailments must be made. Illinois cannot take the chance of running out of funds. The program we are pursuing will insure the financial integrity of Illinois.

2. In reviewing the funds allocated to other sovereign areas, it has come to my attention that after payment by the state certain monies lie idle for great lengths of time. I have ordered a review as to the state's participation in payments to these areas so that a reduction in payments can be made, thus freeing this money to bolster our financial structure until these funds are absolutely needed in local jurisdiction.

3. I have ordered a transfer to the General Revenue Fund of $4 million from the but, as a group, you have left them out of your plan. The planners have found the average income to be $5,000.00. They advise more factories. They also advise against any low cost housing. Where are these new factory workers to live? Not within a mile and a half of Antioch as that would hurt the tax structure.

We are in need of a new cemetery, not in ten or twenty years, but at once. There are only 6 graves for sale in our present one. We know the County will not allow one, and after this plan is passed, the Village will not have one. No individual or group can hope to start one as there will always be a neighbor to object. If therefore, will be your duty to not only provide for one but to develop it. If you assume the power, you also assume the responsibility to do for the people what they cannot do for themselves. In the name of health and sanitation, it must be solved, and, by you, or knowing the mordant humor of some of our old independent citizens, you may find coffins piled up on your lawns.

May we have answers to these problems at the next meeting?

Respectfully,

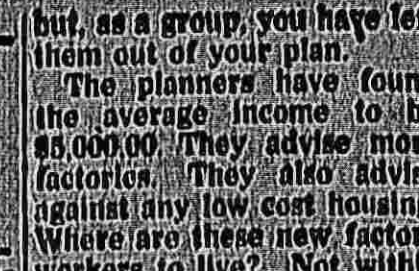

Mrs. J. W. McMillen

Bites

This is another word of warning! Don't ignore any swelling that a member of your family gets after being bit or stung. Eight year old Carol Orbank was fishing in Linden Lake Monday, and got bit on the forehead by something. It started to swell, and kept swelling until her eyes were practically closed and her cheeks hid her nose. Ice packs were kept on her face, but when it started to go into her throat she was hospitalized, where she was treated for allergy. She was in the hospital from Tuesday until Friday.

4-H Club

The Lindenhurst Daughters, Sr. made plans for their Achievement Night to be held June 20 at 7:30 at Loraine Lewis' home when they met last Thursday evening.

A statement from the American Foundation for the Blind declares, "As late as 1960, less than one million dollars was invested in research on blindness per year." This contrasts with twenty-seven million spent on playing cards and ninety-one million spent on lipsticks.

They Didn't Have 1-Hour Martinizing In 1861!

If you look at old photos taken of people 100 years ago, you'll see their clothes look almost as sloppy as those of the gentlemen in this picture. T. RICHARD MCGRAW

T. Richard McGraw, 59, of Bristol, Wis., died Thursday evening in Victory Memorial Hospital, Waukegan. He suffered a heart attack on Monday.

Born September 4, 1902, in Clinton, Wis., Mr. McGraw moved to Chicago in 1926 where he was employed as a manager for Bowman Dairy for 42 years. He lived in Chicago and in suburbs until moving to Bristol in 1955. In Antioch, he was employed at Art's Paint Store and Taylor's Shoe Store.

Mr. McGraw was a member of the Westchester Community Church, Westchester. He is survived by his wife, Genevieve; two sons, Richard B. and L. F. McGraw, both in the U. S. Navy; one daughter, Mrs. Verle (Richard) Niekamp, Bristol; a brother, Earl, of Beloit, Wis.; a sister, Mrs. Agnes Gillebreath of Mauston, Wis.; his mother, Mrs. Maude McGraw, of Camp Lake, Wis., and 10 grandchildren.

Services were held Monday at Strang's Funeral Home, with the Rev. Charles A. Williams of Westminster Presbyterian Church of Lincolnwood officiating. Burial was in Liberty Cemetery.

WILLIAM M. KNOUREK

William M. Knourek, 77, of Oak Park, died recently. A stroke suffered in the home of his son, William, in Oak Park.

Mr. Knourek owned a summer residence in Antioch and made frequent trips to the area.

Born August 23, 1884 in Chicago, Mr. Knourek moved to Oak Park in 1918. He founded the Woodworkers Tool Works in 1907 and was its president and chairman of the board until May of this year.

Mr. Knourek was a member of River Forest Masonic Lodge 1049 and a Shriner.

His wife, Frances, of Oak Avenue, two grandsons, William and Robert and his son survive him.

Funeral services were held at Hursen's Chapel in Oak Park. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

ALFRED C. RAMBOW

Alfred C. Rambow, 65, of Lake Villa, died Tuesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Richard Schneider at 218 Villa Ave.

Born March 5, 1897 in Barrington, Mr. Rambow lived in Richmond before moving to Lake Villa in 1943. He then went to Wilmet, Wis., and to Antioch in 1956, returning to Lake Villa in October of 1960.

He was married to Elsie H. Krause May 5, 1918 at Elgin; she preceded him in death Feb. 11, 1960. A sister, Elsie Smith, died in 1955 and a son, Vernon, passed away in May, 1949.

Shady Nook Couple Honored by Family

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zalatoris, of Shady Nook, recently celebrated their 48th wedding anniversary in quiet ceremonies with their children and families. Many gifts and cards from neighbors and friends were received by the Zalatoris.

The couple have resided in Antioch for the past five years. Their children are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zalatoris of Antioch, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cermak of Brookfield and Mr. and Mrs. William Zalatoris of LaGrange Park and their families.

Volley Ball Is Slated

By Mrs. Pearl Kapell
A major sports event will take place at Channel Lake gym on Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. on June 21. It is expected that the school will be swamped with volleyball addicts and men and women. Volley ball addicts, to watch the experts play the game and pick up some pointers. Men and women, to root their respective sex to victory, whether or not they have any real interest in the fine points of volleyball.

The Men's Blubber Club (with more inactive members than participating members) will meet the Women's Thursday night gym class at this time to decide the Volley Ball Championship of Channel Lake — possibly of the world, as I doubt if there is an official Volley Ball Championship team to date.

Both teams are keeping their list of starting players under wraps so far. However, a few names have leaked out, among them: Pat Harland, Dick Harland, Gladys Zabis and Lynn Kubicki. It is also rumored that the Women's Gym Class, with an unprecedented show of good sportsmanship, having heard that the ranks of the Men's team is very thin (speaking strictly numerically, of course) has offered to let one of their players, Mary Bierman, play on the Men's team. Spectators from any section of the United States, Canada, or even Antioch are welcome.

Boy Drowns On Monday

A Chicago youth, Terrance Water Ray, 19, of Elmwood Park, drowned off Kopan's Point in Fox Lake last Monday night.

The tragic mishap occurred when two youths, Ray and Allen Smith, 19, also of Elmwood Park, visited the lake to test their boat.

Moose Sponsor Pet Contest

The Antioch Moose, in conjunction with the joint-organization project — Antioch's Summer Festival, will sponsor a children's "Pet Contest" on July 4.

Toddlers to 12-year-olds are eligible for the contest to be held on the Public Parking Lot at noon on the 4th.

Any household pet can be entered in the contest. According to Robert Ayery, Moose representative to the joint committees of the Lions-Legion-Jaycee festival, judging will be done on the upkeep of the animals, how they are handled by the children and how the pet reacts to the child's order.

Various trophies ranging from 1st place will be awarded by the Moose Club.

Resident Proclaims 15th Anniversary

Leo Ross, one-time printer in the ad room of the Chicago Tribune, recently celebrated his 15th anniversary as a property holder in the village of Antioch.

As coincidence would have it, Ross' date of purchase, June 10, 1947, up to this month's date, is also the 115th anniversary of the establishment of the Chicago Tribune.

Ross worked for the Tribune for 13 years, 1935 to 1948. He was previously employed by the Chicago Daily News and the old Chicago Daily Journal in the twenties.

He has three grandchildren, Michael, Patrick and Max. Mr. Ross lives at 1000 Bishop Drive.

Second Victory for Strom In Fast Speedway Heat

Sunday, June 17 — Bill Strom, West Allis, defending champion, became the first driver to score a double victory at the Waukegan Speedway as he came home the winner in the 25 lap main event for the modified stocks before 2,750 persons as the powerful modifieds staged their sixth program of the season. Strom had scored his first victory on opening night, May 13.

Strom had started second row inside and took the lead at the drop of the green flag, but he was forced to battle Bob Ratajczyk, Milwaukee, for most of the distance. Ratajczyk took over on the 3rd, 4th and 5th laps, lost to Strom on the 6th, regained it for the 7th circuit, but then relinquished it for good on the 8th time around.

The night's fastest qualifier and top favorite, Eddie Stillman, also of Milwaukee, and the current point leader in this year's championship race, lost considerable ground early in the event when slower cars nearly spun and collided in front of him. He was forced to a near stop, losing several of the valuable positions he had already gained and finished a weak ninth. Paul Feldner, Colgate, took third. Speed for the event was recorded at 49.56 mph over the hard, dry slippery oval.

Winner of the 15 lap semi feature was Elkhorn, Wis., driver Larry Leach who captured his first checkered flag of the season. He took the lead on the 5th lap and was never again challenged as he sped to victory averaging 49.34 mph, and finishing a quarter-lap ahead of second place Milt Curcio of Racine. Curcio had battled early leader Harold Wade, Waukegan, for the position for several laps after Wade lost the lead to Leach. On the 13th lap Curcio took the position and held it by a slim margin to the finish.

The night's action got off to a swift start, when Bob Norman of Trevor spun out in the first lap heat, taking Dick Vanderspool, Grayslake, and Steve Stevens, Lake Villa, with him. Stevens and Vanderspool stalled into the concrete wall as newcomer, Earl Mulkins, Racine, took the lead. On the 8th lap, however, Mulkins drifted too wide, hit two stalled machines and was out of any further competition as another Racine driver, Russ Reynolds, went on for the win. Ron Larsen, Racine, came from the rear to pass pole sitter, Bill Strom, on the 8th lap and win at an average speed of 49.28 mph. Stillman did the same thing in the fourth heat, passing team-mate Ratajczyk on the ninth circuit and took the win at the fastest speed of the night, 50.79 mph.

A special trophy dash for the top six qualifiers was staged as a father's day extra and an exciting race it was, too, as Don Sorce of West Allis, beat off the last lap challenges of Stillman in a very exciting finish to win the event and set a six lap record of 51.22 mph.

Sportsmen Feature To Began

Dennis Burgan, of Zion, scored a last turn victory to win the 12 lap sportsmen feature after leader John Johnson of Milwaukee was bumped out of contention by Lee Mayfield, Round Lake, while Johnson was attempting to lap Mayfield. The event was stopped in the 8th lap when Tom Ketchum, Crystal Lake, rolled his car over in the south turn. He was not injured.

Hot Heat in Kenosha Race

Stock car drivers ran exceptionally fast at the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmet Saturday night June 16, following the two week lay-off due to a rain-out last week.

In the feature race, Bay Darnell of Antioch spun on the 12th lap of the race but quickly got back into the thick of things and finally came in fifth. Bob Karry of Waukegan was 2nd from the 9th lap on and was closing in on the leader Tom Aschenbrenner of Milwaukee from then to the end. He was so close on the final lap that in a desperate try to take over the lead he spun out in the final corner. However, he too recovered quickly and lost only one position to George Utteck of Kenosha who was second at the check-off.

Ted Shuster of Kenosha was fourth. Time for the 25 laps was 8:06.88.

In the semi many cars were also sidelined by accidents as Milt Curcio of Racine won after going into the lead only when Russ Dishner who led all the way spun out in front of the judges' stand. Curcio's time for the semi distance of 15 laps was 5:09.51.

Other winners were: Russ Dishner, 1st heat; Russ Sorenson, Racine, 2nd heat; Milt Curcio, 3rd heat; Tom Aschenbrenner, 4th heat.

John Anderle of Lake Villa, won the spectators car feature race and Dennis Burgan of Zion and Jerry Tomasko of Antioch the heat races.

A crowd of 3,294 fans contributed making a purse of $1,970 possible for the drivers. Next week will feature again the thrills that fans are seeking in the best in stock car racing at the Indianapolis of Wisconsin, the Kenosha County Speedway, Wilmet.

Western Open Features Golfer Arnold Palmer

GOLF, Ill.—Arnold Palmer not only is the defending champion in the 1962 Western Open, but he also is the one player exempt from all qualifying under the Western Golf Association's exemption code.

Palmer will lead a starry field of touring pros in the WGA's 50th Open championship when it starts June 28 on Medinah Country Club's rugged No. 3 course.

Unlike the National Open, which requires most of its contestants to clear two pre-tournament qualifying hurdles, the Western Open has a sizeable list of players who are excused from all such early chores. This includes about 80 of the final field of approximately 135 starters.

"We believe that we have a system which both guarantees the top players of a tournament and still leaves available the proper number of spots for others to gain through qualifying," says Fritz Souder, WGA president.

Present indications are that about 100 players will seek the remaining 45 spots in the qualifying struggle which will be held Monday, June 25 over Medinah's No. 1 course.

The WGA's various exemption categories cover some 77 of the touring pros. For example, Palmer is exempt under 8 of the first 9 categories.

Now the favorite in every tournament which he enters, Palmer has won the Western Open, National Open and Masters. He finished in the low 32 at both the 1961 Western Open and the 1961 PGA championship, and among the 40 leading PGA money winners in 1961. Also, he is among those who have won a major tournament since June 1, 1961, and was a member of the last U. S. Ryder Cup team.

In fact, the only big category under which Palmer is NOT eligible is that reserved for those who won the National PGA title.

Doug Ford ranks second to Palmer in collecting exemptions. The 1958 Western Open champion, Ford is exempt 7 different ways. He misses only from having not won the National Open and for missing the low 32 in last year's Western Open.

There are four other pros exempt under six categories—Sam Snead, Gene Littler, Billy Casper and Jay Herbert.

In addition to the 9 categories already mentioned, there are other categories which give the green light to Medinah's first tee. For example, star rookie Jack Nicklaus, although now a pro, comes in as the winner of the 1961 Western Amateur.

Frank Stranahan is in a similar category. The last 10 winners of the Western Amateur as well as the 8 quarterfinalists in the 1961 Amateur all are exempt.

So is Bobby Harris as the Illinois PGA champion and Chuck Malchaski as the Illinois Open champion. In addition, Jack Bell, pro at Medinah, and Charley Penna, pro at Beverly, are exempt as the host pros of the 1962 and 1963 Western Open.

PONY LEAGUE

By Mrs. Bernice Bernau

The Pony League has had to be dropped this season because no one has the time or will make the time to manage a team. Two teams of uniforms are laying around, two sponsors anxious to sponsor a team, loads of boys anxious to play ball but no one to manage them. Ray Parpan, who is president of the Little League, wonders if the parents are aware of what their sons are doing evenings. Maybe your boy is behaving himself, but there are plenty who have time on their hands.

Two Teams To Battle

The Lake Keno Softball League is now led by the Kopper-Piccone team with a 4 and 0 record. Hot on their heels is the Pittman Motors team of Antioch with a 4 and 1 standing.

These two teams will play this Friday night at the Golf View Park Stadium at 9 p.m. The game completes the 1st round of 3 rounds of play in league action for the season. The stadium is located two miles north of Antioch on Rte. 21-83.

League Standings:

TEAM	W	L
Kopper-Piccone	4	0
Pittman Motors	4	1
Emerson Motors	3	2
Sterbenz Garage	3	3
(Loon Lake)
Corky's Shamrocks	1	4
(Round Lake)
Mazzuca's State
Farm Ins.	0	5

All of the Lake Keno teams will participate in their 1st Annual Softball Dance on July 7 at 8:30 p.m. The dance is sponsored by the Antioch Moose Lodge 525 and will be held in the Moose Home in Antioch. Music for the evening will be provided by the Twilights.

Refreshments will be served at the dance. Tickets will be available from this Saturday on at the Jaycee Information Center on Main and Lake Streets or from the softball players.

Yankees Lead Little League

The Yankees needed some late inning heroics to edge the up and coming Cubs by a score of 6-4 in a game played at the Fox River County Park. The Cubs had a 4-1 lead going into the last inning but the Yankees tied it up when Denny Williams tripled, Johnny Erickson doubled and Mike Vanderzee hit a home run. The game went 8 innings before the Yanks finally scored two more times to win the game. Burton Tomten led the Yankees at the plate with three hits, including a home run. Ronnie Weidner was the winning pitcher. Jim Costanzo of the Cubs had three hits, including a triple. Dean Antes, pitching for the Cubs allowed only 3 hits until the Yanks tied the game in the sixth inning.

The White Sox continued on the heels of the Yankees when they won over the Orioles at New Munster 3-0. Mike Thom and Steve Miller combined to pitch a one hit game for the Sox with Jim Lois getting the only Oriole hit. Ronnie Kaskin, John Blake, and Miller each had two hits for the White Sox.

The Pirates beat the Braves at Silver Lake by a score of 11-0. Tommy Hartnell pitched the win for the pirates, allowing just 4 hits. Mike Wagner and Jimmy Noonan hitting two doubles. Harris Wheeler hit a double for the Braves.

Lake Villa Little League Begins New Season

By Mrs. Bernice Bernau

The first Little League game of the season got under way Thursday evening with the Braves beating the Yanks with a score of 23 to 10. Friday night the Dodgers scored 26 and the Cubs 16.

The schedule for the following week are: June 21, Yanks vs. Sox. June 22, Dodgers vs. Pirates. June 26, Sox vs. Cubs. June 27, Braves vs. Dodgers. June 28, Pirates vs. Yanks. June 29, Sox vs. Braves.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week the Lindhurst Business men are sponsoring the Little League in a Hot Dog-Pepsi business venture. If you see a boy in uniform, buy your lunch or supper from him. Proceeds will be used to purchase two portable grandstands. If you ever go to watch a game, you know how much they need seats. People usually sit on old logs, on the ground or on a chair brought from home.

Rozinski Takes First In Waukegan Feature

Before the season's largest crowd of some 3,350 persons, Ted Rozinski of West Allis became the fifth different feature winner in as many starts as the powerful modifieds staged their most successful program of the year.

Rozinski, who started seventh in a field of 17 cars, moved his way through the traffic to take the lead on the 12th lap and score his victory by nearly an eighth of a lap over second place Paul Feldner of Colgate, a newcomer to Waukegan and winner of last Sunday's 25 lap event.

But the battle for the lead was indeed an interesting one. Ken Heiden of Barrington held it for the first 11 laps, holding off the challenges of Bob Ratajczyk, Milwaukee, Rozinski and Bob Karry of Waukegan. Rozinski found his opening a lap later and went on for the win, although the battle for second place continued to loom.

Feldner began his move up later in the event and started picking off positions lap by lap. The night's fastest qualifier, John Reimer, Milwaukee, moved too, taking over the third spot on the 24th and dropping Karry to fourth. Jack Radtke, who had the second fastest qualifying time, moved up rapidly also at the start of the event, but spun out in the fifth lap, dropping all the way to last place and had but 20 laps left to try for a win. He didn't succeed but placed a remarkable fifth. Rozinski's speed for the event was 50.96 mph. Of the 17 starters, the finish saw all 17 still running, and 16 of them in the same lap.

Seamars Takes Semi Fran Seamars of Milwaukee won the 15 lap test for slower qualifiers, when he passed leader Hartman, another Milwaukeean, on the 14th lap of the event. The event saw Ollie Wergin, Milwaukee, Bob Groddotz of Grayslake and Ron Larsen, Racine, spin and collide with the concrete retainer wall on the backstretch, forcing them out of the competition.

The ten lap heats were run smoothly with only a few minor spins hampering the runnings. Karry's bid for a heat win was dispelled when he hooked bumpers with Swede Erickson, dropping them back two laps before they were able to continue.

The 12 lap sportsman feature was again a comedy of errors, but even still 12 out of 22 starters managed to finish. The event was stopped on the 3rd lap when Don Griffiths of Kenosha, rolled his machine one and one-half times on the main straight in a collision with John Anderle of Lake Villa. He was not injured.

Milwaukeean Ed Shrader, becoming notorious at many tracks for slow qualifying and winning the features, "ran" away with the event at a speed of 40.34 mph. Roger Hagl of Lake Villa, was the fast qualifier and winner of a heat, and also took a 3rd in the feature but was disqualified for having offset wheels, and the positions went to Dennis Gurgan, Zion, David Muhlenbeck, Kenosha, and Mel Smith of Zion, respectively. Burgan was second in the feature.

A real slam-bang demolition race, which saw eight cars purposefully demolished highlighted the evening of action and two cars were declared the winners. They were driven by Chuck Brown and Harry Ketchum, both of Waukegan.

The large crowd was treated to the largest field of cars so far this season. Over 75 in all were on hand for the night's competition in both modified and sportsman and demolition events. They were well rewarded with a near record purse of $1,710.
